DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 13-14 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 4-2-07.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-2, 5, 7-12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Art Unit: 1745

4. Claims 1-2, 5, 7-12 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 4-10 of U.S. Patent No. 7,211,352. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because U.S. Patent No. 7,211,352 claims a composite polymer electrolyte for a lithium secondary battery comprising a first polymer matrix made of a first porous polymer with a first pore size where the first porous polymer is polyethylene, polypropylene, etc., a second polymer matrix coated on the first polymer matrix comprising an inorganic material and the second porous polymer with a second pore size smaller than the first pore size and an electrolyte impregnated into the first polymer matrix and the second polymer matrix. The inorganic material is selected from silica, talc, TiO₂, etc. and is added in an amount of 1-100% by weight. The first polymer matrix has a thickness of 10-25 μ m and the second polymer matrix has a thickness of 0.5-10 μ m. The electrolyte comprises EC, PC, etc.

U.S. Patent No. 7,211,352 claims the claimed invention teaching that the second porous polymer has a pore size smaller than the first porous polymer except does not specifically claim that the first porous polymer has micro-scale morphology and the second porous film has submicro-scale morphology.

However, the invention as a whole would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made because the courts have held that where only the difference between the prior art and the claimed invention was recitation of relative dimensions (particle size) of the claimed material (lithium-containing oxide) and a material having the claimed relative dimensions would not perform differently than the prior art material (lithium metal oxide), the claimed material was not patentably distinct from the prior art material. See MPEP 2144.04.
